NSPCC LAUNCHES SHARE AWARE CAMPAIGN

The NSPCC have recently launched a new campaign encouraging families to discuss socialising online safely called 'Share Aware'. More information can be found by going to their website www.nspcc.org.uk/shareaware and also www.nspcc.org.uk/online-safety where you'll find a wealth of information and advice.

"We know some parents feel confused by the internet – out of their depth, and out of control. Share Aware – our campaign for parents of children aged 8-12 – will help to reassure you, and give you everything you need to keep your children safe."

"We've got straightforward, no-nonsense advice that will untangle the web, and show you how you can be just as great a parent online, as you are the rest of the time. The internet is a great place for children to be. Being Share Aware makes it safer."

I am writing to thank you and the Rose Hill School Parents Association (RHPA) for your extremely wonderful donation of £1,000.00 in memory of Rebekah Pitman (Gibbs). I understand this is from the profit of your Summer Ball that was held on 12th July. On behalf of everyone at Hospice in the Weald I would like to say how extremely grateful we are for RHPA's support; their generosity is truly appreciated.

As you know Hospice in the Weald provides compassionate, individualised, holistic and supportive care for all patients with terminal illnesses, their families and carers. As we are a local charity and not part of the NHS, we depend on the support of our community to help us fund our vital services and raise the £6 million needed every year to ensure our services can continue.

Thank you once again to RHPA for their kindness. This is very much valued as Hospice in the Weald continue to provide the best possible care for those people in our community who need our help.

Yours sincerely
